Multilingual SEO Translation Service

Dear Sir / Madam,

Thank you for your enquiry with Indigoextra Ltd.

We would be delighted to complete your translation project and have enclosed information on our multilingual keyword research, content marketing and translation services in Europe. We can translate content between English, French, German, Italian, Dutch and Spanish and will always use a translator who will be translating into their mother tongue.

All our translators are also experienced copywriters and will complete your translation with an appreciation for cultural references and nuances within it.

Our design team can also translate websites and individual images.

If you would like to know any further information about our services, please don't hesitate to ask.

Yours faithfully,

Martin Woods
Indigoextra Ltd.

1. Indigoextra – Marketing in the Modern Age

2. Our Approach

Translation is not just about words, it is also about concepts, ideas and cultural aspects that need to be understood to produce compelling content.

Our content is manually translated and carefully proofread by experienced professionals to ensure an accurate and interesting read.

When completing SEO translations, we also include keyword research and ensure that the translated content has a good keyword balance.

The Title and Description Metatags on websites appear in Google's search results and when translating these we ensure that they succinctly describe a web page, to encourage visitors to click to visit your website, rather than a competitor's.

3. Our Team

Indigoextra Ltd. was established over 14 years ago and comprises an experienced team of multicultural translators and content marketing experts.

Different members of our team speak English, French, Italian, Dutch, Spanish and German fluently and we also have skilled graphic designers and web designers, allowing us to translate images and whole websites.

Finally, our content marketing team can create engaging content and help build your branding and search presence by creating links from articles and infographics, or by managing a social media campaign.
